

Reef Point

PRIVATE VILLA

Hillside at the farthest – and quietest – end of the Baie de St. Jean, Villa Reef Point lays claim to a stunning seascape from the umbrellas at Nikki Beach to Anse de Cayes. The villa's main entrance is bordered by an artisanal stone wall; water gently cascades from embedded spouts into a zen-like lily pond. A little wooden bridge spans the pond and provides access to a beautiful salon separated by a partial wall from a living room set up for TV viewing. A sleek, spacious kitchen is adjacent to a dining area and alfresco meals can be enjoyed on a poolside portico. A full guest bath (with a shower) is off the entrance and a powder room is off the kitchen. An expansive deck borders a heated infinity pool and meanders for additional outdoor living space. The contemporary décor is complemented by "old St. Barth" photographs and accent pieces. All three bedrooms have French king beds and well-appointed en suite baths with adjacent dressing rooms cum closets. Two of the bedrooms have a pair of glass sliders framing different spectacular views. One bedroom connects via a small enclosed garden – offering privacy yet accessibility - to a third whose bed is positioned to face the sea and accesses the terrace via sliders. Guests enjoy watching the planes take off and land at the tiny airport across the way as well as glorious sunsets.
