Gustavia, St. Barth's petite harbor side capital, brims with boutiques, brasseries, mega-yachts and venues for happily sipping your favorite beverages. For those who love to be in the "middle of it all", we have the perfect pied-à-terre. Rive Gauche is a two-bedroom apartment that is as casually sophisticated as the island itself. It sits atop a popular little bistro. Privacy is well-preserved. Guests are treated to a stunning vista of the harbor and vivid sunsets. Air-conditioned throughout, Rive Gauche's floor plan encompasses a living room, dining area and a sleek galley-styled kitchen opening to a covered dining terrace. Just beyond, a Jacuzzi and a double-sized sunbed are positioned for guests to relax and enjoy a view of the harbor that's right out of a travel magazine. The two bedrooms have French king beds and, together with a bathroom, are in the rear. Shell Beach is a short stroll away.
