

Supersky

PRIVATE VILLA

The door to Villa Supersky opens to a spacious foyer with a rear swimming pool, bathed in sun from approximately 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; it's a delightful spot to while away a few hours. On one side, a cabana houses a living room for TV watching and includes a home office space. It opens to a portico with a pair of hammocks and a side yard. (Kids would love it!) A cabana on the opposite side is set up for dining and opens to a long covered verandah with four more hammocks. On a given day, one can see the small cruise ships moored at Corossol. A second living room opens to a deck with a second pool and offers a peek of Saline. A well-equipped kitchen has a large opening over a counter that functions nicely as a pool bar – just pull up one of the stools. The three en suite bedrooms, all privately situated, have French king beds and ample closet space. The vista is a panoramic view of the island's verdant hills and valleys with slivers of the sea.
